Dear Lisa and NCEC Committee,

Thank you for circulating the schedule for the 29 March competition. It looks like a wonderful event — especially with the four A-level judges secured.

I am writing to respectfully enquire whether the Club would consider permitting me to ride Hors Concours (HC) in the Prelim and Novice tests using a plain leather direct-pull bitless bridle.

I have recently submitted a formal proposal to Equestrian NSW and Equestrian Australia requesting approval for a limited HC pilot project to allow bitless combinations to be observed under standard judging conditions. That proposal does not seek rule changes, only structured observation.

As a contained and low-risk step, I wondered whether NCEC might be willing to allow me to ride HC only (not eligible for placings or awards), either at the beginning of the class or at a time convenient to the organising committee.

The purpose would simply be:

- To allow judges to assess the test under normal criteria
- To confirm that stewarding, safety and conduct are unaffected
- To gather practical feedback in a controlled club environment

Equipment would be restricted to plain leather, direct-pull configuration only (no mechanical or cross-under designs), and I am very happy for the bridle to be inspected by stewards prior to riding.

If this is not possible under current club policy, I completely understand. I appreciate the committee's role in maintaining fairness and compliance.

Thank you for considering the request, and thank you again for the work that goes into running these competitions.

Kind regards,
Paula Lasersohn

Thank you to Nicki, one of our committee members, in working tirelessly to secure our official judges for this competition. As she was able to secure four A level judges we have been able to offer four FEI tests and Para Tests of choice.

For the 2025/26 point score year we extend our thanks and gratitude to Horseland Canberra for their ongoing sponsorship of our awards.
